PRODUCTIVITY

Productivity is vital to business growth and development, and you need smart tools to support your business teams so that they can achieve outstanding results. But how many of us are held back from getting on with our day-to-day jobs because of the deluge of meetings, flood of emails, and disorganized and limited access to information?

Imagine a new way of working where you can reduce your meeting times, interruptions and get instant access to business critical information on demand. A way of working where you can organize tasks, information, and data using modules and pathways that are easy to navigate in one simple system, giving you a visual snapshot of your ongoing projects. Imagine a way of working where you can support innovation, enhance competency levels across your organization, evaluate decisions more effectively, and develop collective solutions.

OpusView provides instant visibility and information on the progress of ongoing business initiatives within your organization, allowing you to set and complete tasks and seamlessly communicate with colleagues, suppliers, partners and customers to achieve heightened productivity levels through team working.

From reducing meeting times to boosting capability, OpusView's functionality will increase productivity for individuals and teams across your business.

INNOVATION

In today's competitive environment, businesses are under increasing pressure to innovate, grow, and improve their agility. Innovation doesn't just happen, it must be part of the culture and encouraged. You also need the tools to support innovative thinking as well as the space to develop creativity. OpusView gives you the freedom to unleash your creativity to build "know-how" and "do-how".

You can quickly conceptualize new ideas using our unique mind mapping and sketching tools, notes, and discussions. You can crowdsource from internal and external networks for real-time feedback to nurture your discoveries and innovation. You can instantly capture and refine new concepts and ideas using unique workspaces. You can do anything you want to be innovative – because OpusView is a flexible and adaptable solution that fits around your own individual way of working.

Innovation just became a whole lot simpler, giving you the space to think creatively and enjoy more freedom.

COOPERATION

Imagine being able to collaborate not only across your organization or geographies, but also with external resources, and stakeholders. This is when the collaborative process can truly bring results. And it's more than just solidifying team dynamics and developing relationships, it's about the social fundamentals of sharing knowledge, ideas and concepts, and gathering useful feedback.

With OpusView, enterprises and teams can work on business initiatives by leveraging know-how from across the organization using social group structures. These can be self forming on an as-needed basis and work towards the given business objective. OpusView empowers people to work with each other to achieve shared goals. This may mean completing tasks, sharing knowledge, putting forward opinions, and solving problems. New levels of co-operation can be achieved both internally and externally where company employees can work with customers, partners, and suppliers.

What's more, you can work on, and share a multitude of business initiatives across your organization, drag and drop documents, digital assets or mind maps into new workspaces with ease, and collaborate with anybody you need to in your networks.

With real-time conversations, feedback and voting, relevant resources and with a highly interactive interface, stakeholders can efficiently contribute to reach effective results with OpusView.

KNOWLEDGE

Knowledge is power, but often it can be lost if there is no mechanism or process in place for pooling it and sharing it. With OpusView, you have the tools to build an in-depth task relevant knowledge base for your company that can be accessed at any time and by anyone you want to share it with.

With OpusView, you can have a scalable learning environment for your team, suppliers, customers, and stakeholders. Now you can easily develop and share collective intelligence across your organization. Using search in OpusView you can quickly reference resources from business initiatives at any time and literally access information at your fingertips. No longer does knowledge have to leave your business when an employee does, instead you can build a digital knowledge bank for everyone associated with your business, so everyone can be more confident to get on with their jobs more productively.

Empower your staff, empower your business, and use your business knowledge to save time, respond faster and reduce costs.
